FASHIONS FINEST EXCLUSIVE: BEAUTY CHAT WITH TIA ROQAA

Fashion and beauty-makers started somewhere and, if you look a bit closer, their interests and lives are much like ours. We at Fashions Finest love talking about trailblazers, visionaries, creative minds. This time, we had the pleasure to chat with Tia Roqaa, CEO and founder of Roccabox, to know more... role: Editor-in-Chief

Read the Beauty Chat with Tia Roqaa, CEO and founder of Roccabox

1) For many of us, this love - sometimes a real obsession - for 'everything beauty' started very early. When did you fall in love with beauty? Did it influence your career path in PR?

"I always dabbled with beauty, but it was when I started working across several global beauty brands, representing them for a top London PR agency, building relationships with beauty brands, trying out products and really understanding them enough to then sell then pitch them to the media, is when I really fell in love with it. I worked for fashion brands too but beauty became my niche and I then moved to an in-house position for a global beauty and wellness brand."

2) Have you had an easy relationship with your natural beauty (i.e. throughout your teens)?

"I've gone through periods of struggling with my skin, and I particularly suffer from hormonal issues, so I find this impacts my relationship with skincare. It started in my teens but it still continues to affect my skin's behaviour on a monthly basis, so my approach to skincare continues to grow and evolve. I think that's true of most women: they tend to discover skincare at a point when they are tackling an issue. Whenever I chat to women with skincare issues - whether that's acne, or pigmentation, or scarring - what stands to me is how much it impacts your mental health. I think this goes to show how important skincare products can be. This is partly why skincare forms such an integral part of our Roccaboxes."

3) Is there a cosmetic product you adored but got discontinued, then letting you down?

"Benefit discontinued their Bathina Body Balm and I really can't work out why: it was everything you wanted in a body balm and left the most gorgeous, flattering super-sexy sheen on your limbs and collarbones. It was my pre-party essential in my late teens and early twenties: I used to slather it on before a night out!"

Birmingham's commercial heart can be confusing, so I've made it easier for those new to Birmingham...

From the revamped New Street station, take the escalators to the uppe floor full of shops and cafés, the so-called "Grand Central".

Here you can spin around - sometimes like a headless chicken - and either find your way out to New Street, or walk through "Linkstreet", a gallery full of ... other shops!

From here, you make your way to the Bull Ring and may God save you (and your wallet) from the shopping madness! But the view of St. Martin's church from the Bull Ring is simply breathtaking.

My guide to navigating the city centre

The University of Birmingham

Fun fact: Did you know that you can go from the city centre to the campus for just £1? What a great deal with your student ID!

Why should you continue your academic studies after a break?

- 1. To complete your study path there's always more to learn
- 2. To deepen your knowledge and become an expert in your field, so that you can learn the skills that are more suitable for your dream role
- 3. To develop new skills it's like discovering your superpowers which will make you goals easier to reach

Settembre 2016, un'incursione pacifica giunge alle porte del Parco Archeologico di Elea-Velia e si tratta di un gradito ritorno.

Era il 2015 quando sono arrivati per la prima volta, in occasione di quello che doveva essere, così come è stato effettivamente, un evento mai visto prima nel "piccolo" sito cilentano, in provincia di Salerno: "Velia Romana".

Vorrei scrivere al presente di quel primo incontro, perché è ancora tutto nitido. Non vorrei confondere i tempi verbali, ma in quei brevissimi weekend di fine estate il tempo ha veramente cambiato il suo corso.
